

December 9, 2021

Another photo: <https://twitter.com/hephsyyy/status/1465654746874736651>

Name HephizaH Korlapati.

<https://www.gotquestions.org/Hephzibah.html> : 2 Kings 21:1 and Isaiah 62:4. Translated from the original Hebrew, Hephzibah literally means, "My delight is in her."

Economics in Bricks @econinbricks

What is the best academic writing tip you ever received?

10:57 AM · May 26, 2020

Hepsiba R Korlapati IAS

May 26, 2020

Replying to @econinbricks and @AcademicChatter

Write with any quill. And Edit with full will.

Professor Eric Rasmusen

Jun 10, 2020

source? Or do I cite you, as this tweet? I am thinking of revising my Notes on Writing.

Hepsiba R Korlapati IAS

Jun 10, 2020

Replying to @erasmuse@econinbricks and @AcademicChatter

Yes Sir. It's original quote..

Professor Eric Rasmusen

Jun 10, 2020

Very good! It will go in the next draft of my APhorisms, if I ever get to it.

Hepsiba R Korlapati IAS

Jun 10, 2020

Sir, please share the same when You do

Professor Eric Rasmusen

Jun 10, 2020

Like to co-author the poem? Write first with any quill, Then edit with full will. To wait will paralyze-- But endlessly revise.

Hepsiba R Korlapati IAS

Jun 10, 2020

Good one Sir

Hepsiba R Korlapati IAS

Hectic months of writing and editing made #apromisedland. Keep #writing and #editing!!

"Write first with any quill,

Then edit with full will.

To wait will paralyze-

But endlessly revise."

@erasmuse

Sir &

@hephsyyy

1:24 PM · Mar 2, 2021

https://twitter.com/hephsyyy/status/1366816640814342144

#####

"Work is Worship, Prayers in Rhyme. Praise & Worship, Yes, all the time!"

#####

A Poem for January

"Sun, sun, stay this way;
Keep us happy all the day.
Not as striking as in May,
Now that winter's come to stay,
But you help us so to play."

Then I will show its evolution from Hep's first two lines to the end.

Professor Eric Rasmusen@erasmuse

56m

"Sun, sun, stay this way; Keep us happy all the day."

Does anybody outside of Bangalore know this nice little poem?

Hepsiba R Korlapati IAS@hephsyyy

54m

It's my original one I jotted this afternoon Sir.. with subtle edit by You. Thank You Sir

Professor Eric
38m
Ah-- very good.

Rasmusen@erasmuse

I thought somehow it was a well known children's poem there.

Hepsiba R Korlapati IAS@hephsyyy

25m

Another short rhyme jointly by @hephsyyy & @erasmuse

"Sun, sun, stay this way; Keep us happy all the day. Not too striking like in May, Just bright enough for our play." #HRK #JatayuSpeaks

Professor Eric Rasmusen@erasmuse

Further evolution:

"Sun, sun, stay this way; Keep us happy all the day. Not as striking as in May, Now that winter's come to stay, But you help us so to play."

4:52 PM · Nov 23, 2021 · Twitter Web App

[Valery, Paul]

Un poème n'est jamais fini, seulement abandonné.

