

עִמְנוּאֵל ! Emmanuel!

Behold, a virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, and they shall call his name Emmanuel, which being interpreted is, God with us.

Matthew 1:23

Good Things of 2022

1. Chemistry in 100 Numbers by Joel Levy (2015). Not just Avogadro's number. A good way to learn some chemistry.
2. Korean dramas Anna and *Stranger. Modern dramas, not historical, but still good. Anna (2022) is about a girl who pretends to be a rich girl she meets; Stranger about prosecutors fighting corruption. Both are gripping.
3. Weird Al Yankovic videos. The four best are: "Amish Paradise"(1996), "First World Problems"(2014), "White and Nerdy"(2006), and "Just Like a Surgeon"(1985).
4. Charles Portis books, even beyond True Grit (1968), the best; then the ranking is: Gringos(1991), Lords of Atlantis(1985), Normwood(1966), and The Dog of the South(1979).
5. The MIT Free Speech Alliance (MFSA). I helped found this alumni organization in October 2021 and by now we've gotten a half-million dollar grant, 900 members, Peter Bonilla as executive director, and perceptible influence on MIT. See mitfreespeech.org.
6. A Book of French Quotations by Norbert Guterman (1963). French on one side, English on the other. Well chosen, translated, and indexed. Chronologically ordered like Bartlett's, for fun browsing.
7. The old quarters of Rome and Naples. Comfortable dilapidation, narrow streets, and layers of history. So much older than Paris and London! Nice people, good food, and we didn't get robbed.
8. The Museum of the Rockies in Bozeman, Montana, where Amelia and Jadon are living, has the largest tyrannosaurus and triceratops collections in the world. Six T-Rex skulls are on display, including the largest ever found.
9. Cards.chess.io, solitaire chess. I win 60% at mid-level. The computer is bad at end games, but can you get that far?
10. The Great Gatsby movie with Robert Redford and Mia Farrow (1974). Faithful to the book.
11. Hum Do Hamare Do (Two of Us, Two of Ours) (2021). A sentimental, Hindi comedy with a predictable ending. An orphan software guy needs to come up with temporary parents when he wants to marry a doctor's daughter.
12. The November 2022 Stanford Academic Freedom conference. Amazingly good. Douglas Murray; John Cochrane, Tyler Cowen (economics); John Ioannadis, Bjorn Lomborg, Jay Bhattacharya, Dorian Abbot (science); Joshua Katz, Niall Ferguson; Amy Wax, Nadine Strossen, Eugene Volokh, Michael McConnell (law); Peter Thiel; Lee Jussim, Steven Pinker, Jonathan Haidt, Jordan Peterson (Psychology). Lots of socializing, like a medium-sized academic conference. Video online.
