receive pdf from grad student Sometimes ind article, sometime whole thing
looks at bibliography
sometimes italics drop out, check big picture level.
editor (Levi Walls) cleans it up & sends back print

Jackson & Slottow could not handle business side. shipping etc.

Devinney does not comment on contract

De Vinney thinks that Levi is still editor

De Vinney. tremendous amount of work & high level of technical skill

(2) no funding
no editorial role

(3) ~~not~~ -

Award of Committee Publication
Ethics

did not put it in contract, may do that in the future

- Contract in perpetuity. Contract can be broken in 90 days

- This is standard practice for the press

- another journal College of music
- Only two journals

4. How would you evaluate current operations?

- annual journal, supposed to publish in June

- supposed to get final files in March

- usually late

- last journal issue late, coming in just as everything was locking down.

Articles not based on Euell's Article.
Come in Feb.

Others come in later.

- very last thing to come in Jackson's.
Karen didn't see it. just had to get it set

Vinney. first special issue as far as you can recall peer review process - UNT Press

wanted to know if it was well-respected

hard to find people not on ed
board

found two ; got two positives
in 2009

3
? questions about how respected,
would it count for tenure

wanted to be sure it was reputable

- never saw any need for oversight

- is there any annual report?

- never seen any copy of annual report

point of contact for press Levi Walls or predecessor

- does UNT Press have an legal responsibility

- UNT Press - co-publisher. Center of S.S. owns copyright & true owner

Chrisman - wanted to see how other presses handled their journals

- other university presses ~~do~~ more or less the same

- none involved w/ peer review or content development

Chrisman. one good outcome would be if SMT took it over

Chrisman suggests new contract could say something about Can Ethics guideline
