

UNITED STATES COURT OF APPEALS FOR THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA CIRCUIT

BRIEF & APPENDIX COMPLIANCE CHECKLIST FOR PRO SE AND ATTORNEY FILERS

The purpose of this document is to provide a checklist for pro se filers and attorneys practicing before the court to assist them in reviewing their briefs and appendices for compliance with the Federal Rules of Appellate Procedure, the D.C. Circuit Rules, and the D.C. Circuit Handbook of Practice and Procedures prior to filing their briefs with the court. Elements required by the rules are covered below with specific citation to the corresponding rule(s) for reference purposes. Nothing contained in this checklist supplants a party's briefing requirements or obligations under the federal and local rules. Additional inquiries may be directed to the Clerk's Office by calling (202) 216-7290 or (202) 216-7310.

FORMAT OF BRIEFS

A brief may be reproduced by any process that yields a clear black image on light paper with a clarity that equals or exceeds the output of a laser printer. The paper must be opaque and unglazed. Only one side of the paper may be used. Fed. R. App. P. 32(a)(1)

The brief must be on 8 ½ by 11 inch paper. The text must be double-spaced, but quotations more than two lines long may be indented and single-spaced. Headings and footnotes may be single-spaced. Margins must be at least one inch on all four sides. Page numbers may be placed in the margins, but no text may appear there. Fed. R. App. P. 32(a)(4)

The brief may use either a proportionally spaced or a monospaced face and must be set in a plain, roman style, although italics and boldface may be used for emphasis. Case names must be italicized or underlined. If a brief uses a proportionally spaced face, the typeface must be at least 14 point and must include serifs, but sans-serif type may be used in headings and captions. If a brief uses a monospaced face, the typeface may have no more than 10 ½ characters per inch. Fed. R. App. P. 32(a)(5), (6)

When filed electronically, the brief must be in Portable Document Format (PDF), which is generated from an original word-processing file and is fully text searchable. D.C. Cir. Rule 32(b)(1)

The front cover of the brief must contain the following items in the order listed: D.C. Cir. Rule 28(a)(8)
Fed. R. App. P. 32(a)(2)

- ▶ The date of oral argument or reference to submission without oral argument, whichever is applicable, located in capital letters at the top;
- ▶ The case number centered;
- ▶ The name of the court;
- ▶ The caption of the case;
- ▶ The nature of the proceeding and the name of the court, agency or board below;
- ▶ The title of the brief, identifying the parties on whose behalf the brief is filed; and
- ▶ The name, the postal and email address, and the telephone number of counsel representing the party for whom the brief is filed.

The cover of an amicus brief must also identify the parties supported and indicate whether the brief supports affirmance or reversal. Fed. R. App. P. 29(a)(4)

 Note: In cases designated "Complex," the cover of the brief should so indicate. See D.C. Circuit Handbook of Practice and Procedures § IX.A.6.

The brief must be bound in any manner that is secure, does not obscure the text, and permits the brief to lie reasonably flat when open. Fed. R. App. P. 32(a)(3)

 Note: The following types of binding ensure that the brief will lie flat when open: spiral (also known as coil), comb, and wire binding. The following types of binding do not permit a brief to lie flat when open: velo (also known as strip) binding, metal fasteners or posts, and staples. Accordingly, the use of such methods is not acceptable for a brief, nor is the use of a three-ring binder. If a brief is submitted that does not conform with these requirements, the party will be notified and directed to file a brief that is properly bound. See D.C. Circuit Handbook of Practice and Procedures § IX.A.6.
